DESIGNATED HITTER FOR PITCHER

A hitter may be designated to bat for the starting pitcher and all subsequent pitchers in any game without otherwise affecting the status of the pitcher(s) in the game. A designated hitter for the pitcher must be selected prior to the game and must be included in the lineup cards presented to the umpire-in-chief.

It is not mandatory that a club designate a hitter for the pitcher, but failure to do so prior to the game precludes the use of a designated hitter for that game.

Pinch hitters for a designated hitter may be used. Any substitute hitter for a designated hitter himself becomes a designated hitter. A replaced designated hitter shall not re-enter the game in any capacity.

The designated hitter may be used defensively, continuing to bat in the same position in the batting order, but the pitcher must then bat in the place of the substituted denfensive player, unless more than one subsitution is made and the manager then must designate their spots in the batting order.

A runner may be substituted for the designated hitter and the runner assumes the role of designated hitter.

A designated hitter is "locked" into the batting order. No multiple substitutions may be made that will alter the batting rotation of the designated hitter.

Once the game pitcher is switched from the mound to a defensive position this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

Once a pinch hitter bats for any player in the batting order and then enters the game to pitch, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

Once the game pitcher bats for the designated hitter this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

Once a designated hitter assumes a defensive position this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

The designated hitter is eligible for all American League batting titles.

MOST FREQUENTLY-ASKED QUESTIONS . . .

Qualifications for Batting Championship—highest batting average and 502 or more plate appearances.

EXCEPTION: However, if there is any player with fewer than the required number of plate appearances whose average would be the highest if he were charged with the required number of official at bats, then that player shall be awarded the batting championship.

Qualifications for Pitching Champion—lowest ERA and 162 or more innings pitched.

Player Limits—40 until opening day when number must be reduced to 25 until September 1st when it again becomes 40.

Qualifications for a Save (Revised for 1974 Season)—A relief pitcher should be credited with a save when, in entering the game, he finds the potential tying or winning run on base or at the plate or pitches at least three effective innings, and in either case, preserves the lead.

When more than one relief pitcher qualifies for a save under the provisions of this rule, the save shall be credited to the relief pitcher judged by the scorer to have been the most effective. It is not mandatory to credit a save and only one save can be credited in any game.

To Determine Batting Average—Divide the number of at bats into the number of hits.

To Determine Earned Run Average—Multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take this number and divide it by the number of innings pitched.

League Curfew

All night games must be called at 1:00 A.M. local time. If an inning is started prior to 1:00 A.M. local time, it can be completed. A game called at the end of a completed inning with the score tied after nine innings is a suspended game.

Qualifications for a "Rookie"—A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (A) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the Major Leagues or (B) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a Major League club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

Originally signed for the Yankee organization by one of their most famous scouts, Tom Greenwade, in 1950 . . . was traded to St. Louis with pitcher Mel Wright (now a Yankee coach) and outfielder Emil Tellinger for Enos Slaughter in 1954 . . . Cardinals sent him to their AAA club at Rochester where he led the International League in batting with a .333 average, had 22 homers and 98 RBIs . . . joined the Cardinals in 1955, earning Sporting News selection as N.L. "Rookie of the Year," batting .281 with 17 homers . . . traded to the Pirates on May 17, 1956 for pitcher Dick Littlefield and outfielder Bobby DelGreco, and had his only .300 season in the major leagues—.319 with 10 homers in a league-leading 157 games . . . only Hank Aaron topped him in the NL that year with a .328 average . . . remained a regular for the Pirates through 1965, establishing himself as one of the best centerfielders in the "big leagues" . . . was instrumental part of the 1960 club which copped the NL flag and went on to defeat the Yankees in the World Series and hit the famous bad-hop grounder to Tony Kubek which helped decide the 7th game in that series . . . upon completion of his playing career in 1965, Bill went on to manage in the NY Mets' farm system at Williamsport in 1966 and Jacksonville in 1967, helping to develop such players as Nolan Ryan, Tug McGraw, Jerry Koosman, Ken Boswell and Ken Singleton . . . re-joined the Pirates as a coach in 1968, and by 1971 had become the right-hand man and heir apparent to Danny Murtaugh, who retired following the Pirates' 1971 World Championship . . . succeeded Murtaugh in '72 and guided the Pirates to their third consecutive Eastern Division Championship, losing however to the Reds in the 5-game post-season playoffs . . . last year Virdon had the Pirates in the thick of the race for their 4th straight title, when he was replaced by Murtaugh in hopes of sparking the team onto the pennant . . . the move failed, however, as the Mets captured the division . . . Bill has also managed in Winter Ball, leading San Juan to the Puerto Rican League championship in the winter of 1971 . . . most recently, he was hired to manage Denver (PCL) for the '74 season, but the Yankee offer, with permission of the parent Houston Astros, brought Bill back to the major leagues.

The winningest pitcher in Yankee history appropriately was voted into Baseball's "Hall of Fame" with his long-time friend and teammate Mickey Mantle on Jan. 16th. Together they became the 20th and 21st Yankees to enter the game's Pantheon. His 236 victories against only 106 defeats gives him the highest won-lost percentage in the game's history (.690) among pitchers with 200 or more wins and only former Yankee Spud Chandler's .717 tops Whitey among 100-game winners . . . His 1,956 strikeouts is a club record . . . Whitey holds World Series marks for total series, games pitched, innings, victories, strikeouts and, of course, consecutive shutout innings (33.2—the record breaking the earlier mark of Babe Ruth's) . . . Won Cy Young Award in '61 and American League Pitcher of the Year(s) 1955, 1961 and 1963 . . . Hurled consecutive one-hitters in 1955 . . . Circulation problems in left arm brought distinguished career to a premature end . . . Has served annually as a spring training coach and previously also as pitching coach, first base signalman and color broadcaster . . . Son Eddie plays shortstop for Bobby Richardson's University of South Carolina nine.

6-0, 200. Born on October 20, 1931 in Spavinaw, Oklahoma. Resides in Dallas, Texas. Married Louise Johnson 12/23/51. Children: Mickey (20), David (16), Billy (15) and Danny (13).

Only the seventh player in Baseball history to be elected to the "Hall of Fame" the first time he was eligible. With side-kick and teammate Whitey Ford, together they become 20th and 21st Yankees in "Hall of Fame" . . . His 18-year career was one of most dramatic in Yankee history . . . with injuries to both legs taking a heavy toll from his magnificent performances . . . Mickey played in more games as a Yankee than any other player (2401) and had more at bats (8102) . . . Most powerful switchhitter in game's history . . . ten times hit a home run from both sides of the plate in one game, a major league record. His 18 home runs in series play easily topped Babe Ruth's previous World Series high of 15 . . . American League MVP in 1956, 1957, 1962 . . . won the Triple Crown in '56, and also the Hickok Belt as the top professional athlete of the year in 1956 . . . BEENE, FRED RAY (P) #47

5-8, 150. Born November 24, 1942 in Angleton, Texas. Resides in Oakhurst, Texas. TR. BL. Married Carolyn Knight 4/17/65. Children: Darrell (4). College: Graduate of Sam Houston State College.

OBTAINED: Purchased from Baltimore on January 19, 1972.

This little man with the big heart came into his own last season . . . although he saw limited action, he had a perfect won-loss mark of 6-0, and had the lowest ERA on the Yankee staff—1.68 . . . a three sport letterman at Brazosport High School, where he also starred in baseball, being named to the College Baseball All-American Team two years . . . his pro career was not as easy . . . he played eight seasons in the minor leagues in the Baltimore organization, never quite making the parent club . . . his break came when the Yankees acquired him prior to the '72 season . . . he still didn't have it made, however. He reported to spring training without a major league contract and had to pitch his way onto the club . . . since then he has pitched his way into the hearts of many Yankee fans . . . one of his many assets is that he is almost equally effective as a starter, middle relief man or end relief man . . . He was sorely missed in the 1973 stretch run when the Yanks fell out of the race. A tender arm rendered Freddie hors d' combat late in '73 . . . an all-around athlete, he is an excellent fielding pitcher . . . very fast afoot . . . could probably beat anyone on the club in a long distance race.

5-11, 160. Born August 31, 1953 in San Pedro DeMarcoris, Dominican Republic, where he resides. BR. TR. Single.

OBTAINED: Signed as a free agent for the 1971 season by scouts Luis Arroyo and Jose Seda.

Juan made an exciting comeback last season which prompted the Yankees to protect him on their 40-man roster and bring him to spring training . . . He suffered a double dislocation and fracture of his right ankle last spring training and missed three quarters of the 1973 season . . . Returned late in the year to bat .337 for Ft. Lauderdale in 37 games, and he considers the comeback to be his top baseball experience . . . Nicknamed "Moncho," Juan had a fine full season in 1972 at Ft. Lauderdale when he batted .292. The ankle fracture temporarily took away some of his great speed which he still expects to recapture . . . Plays first or third equally well . . . Of Indian ancestry, from the Dominican Republic . . . Enjoys music and fishing.

BLOMBERG, RONALD MARK (1B) (BLOOM-berg) #12

6-1, 201. Born August 23, 1948 in Atlanta, Ga. Resides in Riverdale, N.Y. BL. TR. Married Mara Goldsmith 10/25/70. Children: None. College: DeKalb College in Atlanta.

OBTAINED: Yankees' 1st (and also baseball's first) selection in the June, 1967 Free Agent Draft, by scout Atley Donald.

Although he saw limited action as he rarely faced lefthanded pitching, the "Boomer" made headlines with his bat, hitting over .400 through most of the month of June and until July 4th . . . the last players hitting over .400 that late in the season were Stan Musial and Ted Williams in 1948 . . . Ronnie was involved in much of the early season scoring by the Yankees which kept them in first place during most of June and July . . . a severe hamstring musclepull on June 17th kept him out of the regular line-up for the rest of the season, seeing action thereafter mainly as a DH against righthanded pitching . . . nevertheless he made his presence felt with 12 homers and 57 RBIs in just 301 at bats . . . he knocked in the winning run in 9 of the 100 games in which he appeared, second only to Bobby Murcer, who had 13 game-winning hits . . . although basically a line-drive hitter, he has displayed awesome power on occasion, hitting two homers in one game three times during his major league career . . .

Yankee players still talk about the shot he hit over the right field roof in Tiger Stadium during batting practice back in 1969 . . . the Yankees are anxiously awaiting an injury free season from the "Boomer" and also one in which he will be able to play against lefthanders as well as righthanders . . . he was an all-star high school basketball player in Atlanta and received many scholarship offers, however, baseball has always been his first love . . . when not bothered by injuries, Ronnie is probably the fastest runner among the "big" men in the major leagues . . . Made the cover of SPORTS ILLUSTRATED, SPORT and the SPORTING NEWS within a five week period last summer.

One of the few who have made the major leagues in recent years after being passed over in the free agent draft . . . he reported to the Yankees on August 5th last year from Syracuse . . . replaced Steve Kline who went on the disabled list . . . "Hoss" has been the Yankees' regular second baseman for the past seven seasons . . . in six of these years (1967-72) he led the league in assists . . . only Charley Gehringer, Detroit's "Hall of Fame" second baseman, has led the league more times—7 . . . one of the best baserunners in the game, Horace has 150 lifetime stolen bases, which is 6th on the All-Time Yankee list . . . originally signed as a shortstop, he has played three infield positions with the Yankees, including 63 games at shortstop in 1966, before replacing Bobby Richardson at second base in 1967 . . . although not noted for his power hitting, his first two homers in the major leagues were grand slams . . . a pesky hitter, he broke up three no-hitters in the ninth inning within one month during the 1970 season, as he spoiled no-hit bids by Joe Niekro, Sonny Siebert and Jim Rooker.

Rick was first signed by the Twins in 1967 and played 41 games for Minnesota over three seasons. . . he was an all-star selection in both 1970-71 at Charlotte . . . DOBSON, PATRICK EDWARD (P) #36

6-3, 207. Born on February 2, 1942 at Depew, New York. Resides in Cape Coral, Florida. TR. BR. Married Kathy LaGesse 11/14/73. Children: none.

OBTAINED: Acquired from the Atlanta Braves in exchange for Syracuse players Wayne Nordhagen, Frank Tepedino, Dave Cheadle and Alan Closter, June 7, 1973.

Pat is in his third tour of duty in the American League, having begun his career with Detroit, moved to San Diego, returned to Baltimore, off to Atlanta, and returned again last June to the Yankees in a widely heralded trade . . . Pat went on to win nine games for the Yankees, and it would have been ten but he had no decision in what may have been the best game of his career—July 26 vs. Milwaukee, in which he hurled a 5-hit shutout for 11 innings, leaving a 0-0 tie which the Yankees won 1-0 in the 12th . . . Pat has also pitched a 2-hitter while with San Diego, and the only no-hitter ever pitched by an American in Japan, when the Orioles toured Japan in 1971 . . . His Oriole days were his big ones, and 1971 his big season, as he was 20-8 and joined Palmer, Cueller and McNally to give the Orioles the first four-man 20-game winner staff in the league since 1920 . . . Member of the 1972 All-Star team . . . traded after the '72 season to Braves in deal which brought Earl Williams to Baltimore . . . after a bad start in Atlanta, he seemed to have regained his form with the Yankees . . . Member of Tigers from 1967-69, participating on '68 A.L. championship club, mostly in relief . . . Attended Lancaster (N.Y.) High School then signed with Detroit and spent seven years in the minors.

GOWELL, LAWRENCE CLYDE (P) (GOW-el) #45

6-2, 190. Born on May 2, 1948 in Lewiston, Maine. Resides in Auburn, Maine. TR. BR. Married Glenys Hall 2/14/71. Children: None. College: Bliss College.

OBTAINED: Yankees #4 selection in June, 1967 Free Agent Draft, by scout Pat Colgan.

Larry has won 70 minor league games for the Yankees, making him one of the organization's biggest winning prospects ever . . . his strong arm has kept him among the organization leaders in innings pitched almost every year since he signed . . . Last year he showed great improvement with his control and may be on the verge of becoming a big leaguer . . . Started the final game of the 1972 season for the Yanks and allowed just one unearned run in five innings, hitting a double his first time up . . . that was the last time a Yankee pitcher had a hit, as the designated hitter rule came into effect last year . . . One of the few baseball players to come from Maine, Larry is musically inclined, playing the trumpet and the organ . . . He is a Seventh Day Adventist, which prevents him from working from sundown Friday to sundown Saturday.

GRANGER, WAYNE ALAN (P) #39

6-2, 167. Born on March 15, 1944 at Springfield, Mass. Resides in Westfield, Mass. TR. BR. Married Andrea Buynicki 11/24/65. Children: Michele (4) and Kelly Eileen (2). College: Springfield College.

OBTAINED: Acquired from St. Louis Cardinals for Syracuse pitcher Ken Crosby and cash, August 7, 1973.

Wayne Granger, one of baseball's leading relief specialists of all time (364 appearances without ever making a start), joined the Yankees last August and had a 1.76 ERA for seven appearances . . . it marked a return to the American League, as he had pitched in 63 games for Minnesota in 1972 before returning to St. Louis, the team which originally signed him . . . Wayne held the major league record of 90 games pitched in one season (1969) until Montreal's Mike Marshall bettered him by two last year . . . Wayne has pitched for two pennant winners, the 1968 Cardinals and the 1970 Reds, appearing in both World Series . . . the year he worked 90 games, Wayne was the "Fireman of the Year," with nine wins and 27 saves . . . he repeated the honor in 1970 with six wins and a record 35 saves, a record since broken . . . This was of course, based under the "old" system of recording saves, revised this year . . . Following the '71 season, he went to the Twins for Tom Hall, then back to St. Louis a year ago for Larry Hisle and John Cumberland . . . Wayne's hobbies are golf, pool and carpentry.

PINCH HIT, GRAND SLAM HOMERS and TRIPLE PLAYS . . . Yankees have hit 135 pinch-hit homers since 1903, the last by Jim Ray Hart July 30, 1973 . . . They have hit 196 grand slam homers, the most recent by Fred Stanley last September 8 . . . The Yankees have performed 21 triple plays in their history, the last on June 3, 1968 (Womack-Cox-Mantle). They haven't hit into a triple play since May 22, 1953, when Irv Noren did it in Washington.

HAMBRIGHT, ROGER DEE (P) (HAM-brite) #49

OBTAINED: Yankees' #67 selection in June, 1967 Free Agent Draft, by scout Eddie Taylor.

.973 was a comeback year for Roger Hambright, who was on the Yankees briefly in 1971 in a surprise callup from Double-A in mid-season . . . Roger impressed onlookers with his poise, and despite his 4.33 earned run average, was thought to have done well considering the jump from Manchester . . . But Roger then developed arm trouble in winter ball following the '71 season, and slipped off the Yankee roster, working in relief for Syracuse . . . last year was dropped to West Haven . . . worked his arm trouble out and became the best relief man in the Eastern League, posting 22 saves and a 2.25 earned run average . . . has been a relief pitcher since signing in 1967, rare for a young player, and it has made him a total relief specialist in poise and ability . . . An off-season carpenter, Roger is looking to make an even bigger comeback in the near future—a return to the major leagues.

HART, JIM RAY (DH-3B) #43

5-11, 217. Born on October 30, 1941 in Lenoir, North Carolina. Resides in Daly City, California. BR. TR. Single.

OBTAINED: Purchased from San Francisco Giants on April 16, 1973.

Jim Ray Hart completed an outstanding National League career early last season, coming to a new league and the Yankees on April 16 . . . Immediately caught fire as the Yankees' designated hitter, and served in that role in 106 games, never appearing in the field (he also pinch-hit eight times) . . . Jim's 13 homers and 52 RBIs added real scoring punch to the center of the lineup last season . . . It was his biggest season in the majors since 1968, when he completed a string of five great years for the Giants, during which time he hit 139 homers, joining Mays and McCovey in the power brigade . . . a member of the 1966 All-Star team, a year in which he hit 33 homers . . . shoulder and knee operations have limited Jim's running and throwing abilities in recent years, and the designated hitter rule was ideal for him . . . still swings a potent bat, as the Yankees recognized from his .323 season at Phoenix in 1972 . . . Jim is still 6th on the all-time Giant home run list, and his 31 homers in 1964 is a Giant rookie record, including their days in New York . . . Jim Ray broke into the majors the hard way—in his second game, Bob Gibson hit him with a pitch, breaking a shoulder blade . . . returning a month later, the Cardinals' Curt Simmons him him in the head and he was out another month . . . Jim is a quiet, always smiling, unassuming fellow, well liked for both his personality and his batting ability.

OBTAINED: Yankees' #7 selection in June 1966 Free Agent Draft by scout Eddie Taylor.

Steve had an unfortunate season in 1973 . . . came off a banner year in '72 and seemed to be on the brink of stardom going into the '73 campaign . . . injuries, however, beset him for virtually the entire season . . . suffered a strained muscle in his shoulder in his 4th start of the year on April 22nd. . . returned to the regular rotation on May 1st and seemed to be pitching well until he came up with some stiffness in his elbow which forced him to leave the game of May 16th . . . he pitched sporadically after that and was finally placed on the disabled list on June 25th . . . was re-instated on July 28th and hurled 5.1 scoreless innings of relief at Milwaukee. In his next start on August 2 at Boston, he was forced to leave the game in the first inning when his elbow acted up again . . . he was again placed on the disabled list, and didn't return to the active roster for the remainder of the season . . . diagnosis over the winter was that complete rest would cure Steve's arm problems . . . he did not throw at all over the winter . . . the club's most eligible bachelor since coming to the Yankees in 1970, the handsome righthander finally "tied the knot" this past off-season, marrying a hometown sweetheart . . . one of many players to take full advantage of Baseball's Scholarship Program, Steve has been pursuing a math degree for the past 8 off-seasons.

Sparky has been the Yankees' top relief man for the past two years . . . added flair and flamboyance to the Yankee scene the minute he walked into spring camp back in 1972 . . . his entrance in a Yankee game accompanied by the organ's strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" never fails to excite the crowd . . . was the "Fireman of the Year" in '72, appearing in 59 games and saving 35, a new American League record (broken last year by John Hiller) . . . last year he appeared in 51 games and saved 27 . . . hence, Sparky has been involved in almost half of the club's victories the past two years . . . won or saved 44 of 79 wins in '73, and 32 of 80 wins in '74 . . . Strikeouts have always been the name of the game for hard-working, hard-throwing "Sudden Sam" McDowell . . . His 2391 lifetime strikeouts place him just 5 behind Sandy Koufax for 10th place on the all-time list, and certainly within reach this season of Christy Mathewson's 2505, or 8th place . . . Sam's strikeouts have averaged almost one an inning . . . Five times he led the American League during his 10 seasons with Cleveland, surpassing the 300 total twice . . . He's also led in walks five times, but that's Sam's kind of game—a lot of pitches, a lot of work, and generally he comes out ahead . . . A 20-game winner in 1970, the league's ERA champ in 1965 (his first full season) . . . Went to San Francisco on November 29, 1971 in celebrated trade for Gaylord Perry and Frank Duffy . . . Has been selected to six All-Star teams in his career, and holds records for strikeouts in two consecutive games (30) and three consecutive (40), both 1968 records . . . Also the A.L. record for 10-strikeout games, 74 . . . Tied Whitey Ford's record by pitching two consecutive one-hitters in 1966 . . . Sporting News Pitcher of the Year in 1970 . . . A boyhood star at Pittsburg's Catholic High School in baseball, basketball, football, swimming, tennis and track, Sam signed a big bonus contract with the Indians at age 17 and a year later made his big league debut, firing a 6-inning shutout before breaking two ribs from throwing too hard.

Duke Sims is a powerfully built man with home run ability who joined the Yankees in the final week of the 1973 season . . . then earned the distinction of hitting the last home run in Yankee Stadium before reconstruction . . . Duke has been around, having played with the Indians, Dodgers and Tigers prior to his Yankee arrival, and three times (all with Cleveland), he caught over 100 games in a season . . . can also play first base . . . when he joined Detroit in 1972 he immediately caught fire, and contributed to the Eastern Division title with a .316 average down the stretch, earning him great and immediate popularity with the Detroit fans . . . Duke's best power year was his final one at Cleveland, 1970, when he hit 23 home runs in only 345 times at bat . . . Was first signed in 1969 by an old-time Yankee, Carl Mays . . . as a schoolboy in the 1950s, Duke had the rare distinction of being All-State in three sports—baseball, football and basketball . . . that was in Idaho, where not too many baseball players come from.

STOTTLEMYRE, MELVIN LEON (P) (STOT-ul-mire) #30

6-2, 193. Born on November 13, 1941 in Hazleton, Mo. Resides in Grandview, Wash. TR. BR. Married Sally Jean Mitchell 11/23/62. Children: Melvin Jr. (10), Todd (9) and Jason (4). College: Yakima Valley College.

OBTAINED: Signed as a free agent for 1961 season by scout Eddie Taylor.

The "dean" of the Yankees, Mel will celebrate his 10th anniversary as a Yankee on August 12, 1974, the day he came up from Richmond as the "Minor League Player of the Year" to begin one of the most successful Yankee pitching stories ever. . . Despite all but that first season without a pennant winner behind him, Mel is high on the charts in most Yankee pitching categories, as listed on page 13 . . . His 40 career shutouts are tops among active American League pitchers (except for Boston's Juan Marichal, whose 52 were all in the N.L.) . . . Whitey Ford leads the all-time Yankee list with 45 . . . Mel three times has been a 20-game winner, and five times an All-Star . . . Since Ford's retirement in 1967, Mel has been the ace of the Yankee staff and the opening day pitcher six times . . . Mel was the victim of a shutout six times last year, making his 16-16 record deceiving . . . Famed for his sinker, Mel was the first major find of scout Eddie Taylor, signing in 1961 . . . A great all-around athlete, Mel is one of the better fielding pitchers around, and as a hitter had seven homers and a 5-for-5 day at Washington in 1964 . . . Only 32, Mel continues to be the Yankee mound leader, and a big year from him will certainly mean the same for the entire ballclub. Holds American League record of 257 consecutive starts, without a relief appearance, a record he is still building on.

SUDAKIS, WILLIAM PAUL (C-IF-OF) (soo-DAY-Kiss) #44

6-1, 190. Born on March 27, 1946 in Joliet, Illinois. Resides in Arlington, Texas. BL/R. TR. Married Linda Bruce 9/10/70. Children: Scott (2). College: Joliet Junior College.

OBTAINED: Purchased from the Texas Rangers, December 10, 1973.

When the Yankees obtained Bill Sudakis last winter, they got one of the most versatile players around . . . Bill can catch, play the infield, or play the outfield . . . he can bat either right handed or left handed, serve as a designated hitter or as a defensive fill in . . . it would be hard to name another player who can do so much . . . Last year was a particularly satisfying one for Bill . . . waived by the Mets to Texas in spring training, Bill hit .255 for the Rangers with 15 homers in only 235 at bats, or one every 15.7 at bats . . . Reggie Jackson, the league's home run king with 32, hit one every 16.9 at bats . . . adding to the impressiveness of Bill's feat was his home ball park, Arlington Stadium, being a tough home run park . . . Bill broke in as one of the "Mod Squad" of young Los Angeles Dodgers who appeared on the scene in 1968 . . . A regular in 1969 and much used utility man in '71, Bill's career was beset by injuries in 1971 when he damaged knee cartilage sliding home against the Mets on June 6 . . operated on after that season, and did not return to full time duty until this past season . . . a fractured finger in 1970 robbed him of regular catching job on Dodgers, which he had won from Tom Haller in spring training . . . A journalism major in college, Bill holds professional status in another sport beside baseball . . . he's a member of the Professional Bowlers Association, and has even toured with them in the winter.

WHITE, ROY HILTON (OF) #6

5-10, 170. Born on December 27, 1943 in Los Angeles, Calif. Resides in Wayne, N.J. BL/R. TR. Married Linda Hoxie 12/15/66. Children: Loreena (6) and Reade (1½). College: Compton Junior College

OBTAINED: Signed as a free agent for the 1962 season by scout Tuffie Hashem.

Roy has accomplished a great deal during this Yankee career . . . including hitting .290 or better three straight years, making two All-Star teams, leading the league in games played twice, setting an American League record for sacrifice flies (17 in 1971), tying Dick Allen for the lead in walks in 1972, tying a major league record and becoming the first Yankee outfielder to field over 1.000 in a season (1971) . . . Switch hitting home runs twice in one game . . . switch hitting triples in a game for a record, and holding the currently longest running playing streak in the American League, 346 straight games, going back to Aug. 31, 1971 . . . Roy has been the Yanks' regular left fielder for the past six seasons . . . Originally a second baseman, he was switched to the outfield in 1967 after his bat came alive while playing third base on loan to Spokane, where he hit .343 . . . this brought him back to the Yankees, and he hasn't departed the lineup since . . . two earlier trials had found Roy overswinging, and by his own admission, pressing for home runs . . . his new found attack didn't hurt his homer production however, and he's hit as many as 22, a good total for a man of his modest stature . . . his 102 career homers are six behind George Selkirk for 20th on the all-time Yankee list . . . Roy experimented with karate this past winter to help him with his concentration . . . The Wayne, New Jersey resident comes from the baseball hotbed of Compton, California, where he played with or against such future big leaguers as Reggie Smith, Don Wilson, Paul Schaal, Dave Nelson, Dock Ellis and Bobby Tolan.

OBTAINED: Signed as a free agent for 1964 by scout Lou Maguoulo. On Syracuse roster.

Jerry returns to the Yankees this spring, having trained with the Indians a year ago following his trade to Cleveland in November, 1972, with Charlie Spikes, John Ellis and Rusty Torres for Graig Nettles and Jerry Moses . . . shortly after being released by the Indians, the Yankees signed Jerry to a Syracuse contract, and he returned with a bang, hitting .343 in 34 games for the Chiefs . . . still a quality infielder who can play short or third, and who has shown streaks of big league ability with the bat . . . his fine performance at Syracuse wasn't surprising, as Jerry never hit below .291 in his minor league career . . . lost 1968 to military service when he was on the verge of the majors, and never seemed to recapture the .290 form at bat . . . co-winner of the 1969 James P. Dawson Award as the outstanding rookie in spring training . . . opened that season in center field, but moved to third base when Bobby Murcer was converted to an outfielder.

Joe has been in spring training with the Yankees in 1968, 1969 and 1971, but this will be his first visit as a pitcher, having converted from the outfield a year ago . . . always noted for his strong arm, the move turned out to be a successful one, with Joe winning 12 of 18 decisions, posting a 3.18 ERA, and still showing the highest batting average in the league (although he failed to bat enough times to qualify) . . . Hits with power, but it's on the mound that Joe is now seeking to reach the majors, and the Yankees are anxious to get this first look at what a year of pitching has taught him.
